Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-19 and 21(Renumbered 1-20) are allowable.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: In response to remarks and claim amendments made in Applicant's Amendment submitted 08/02/2005, and, upon conclusion of a comprehensive search of the pertinent prior art, the Office indicates that the claims, as amended, are allowable.

Regarding claims 1 and 7, patentability resides, at least in part, with the recitation of a plurality of keyways extending from a planar side of the storage drive housing and configured to mount the printed circuit assembly parallel to the storage drive housing planar side.

Regarding claim 15, patentability resides, at least in part, with the recitation of the method steps of providing a printed circuit assembly configuration adapted to mount on keyways coupled to the storage drive housing and extending perpendicularly to a planar side of the storage drive housing ; inserting the printed circuit assembly in alignment with and supported by the keyways parallel to the storage drive housing planar side.

Regarding claim 21 (Renumbered 20), patentability resides, at least in part, with the recitation of a plurality of keyways extending perpendicularly from the storage drive housing planar side and configured to mount the printed circuit assembly parallel to the storage drive housing planar side.

The prior art, taken alone, or, in combination, does not sufficiently teach or suggest all the limitations in the manner as claimed by the Applicants.
